

STORY SHARE

The screenshot shows the AP StoryShare web interface. On the left is a dark sidebar with navigation options: All, Collaboration Opportunities, Coverage Calendar, Stories Ready to Use (49), Everything (49), My Stories, Contacts, My Account, Terms and Conditions, and Logout. The main area has a search bar and filters: Exclude Mine, My Projects Only, All Statuses, All Categories, All States, and Sort by Last Updated. Below are three story entries:

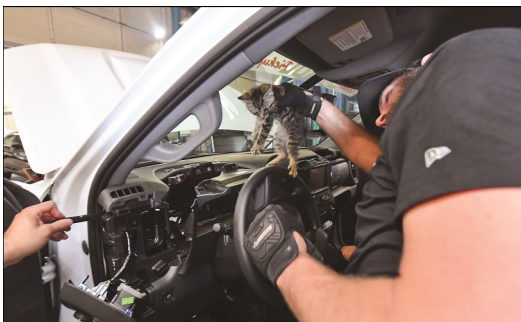

Title	Description	Contributors	Coverage
Federal 3-judge panel to decide whether state redistricting plan is constitutional Last Updated: July 14, 2021 - 4:26 PM Springfield, IL	Lawyers for plaintiffs and the state told a panel of federal judges Wednesday the issues involved in two lawsuits challenging the state's legislative redistricting plan are "straightforward" and...	Capitol News Illinois	Federal 3-judge pane... (rtf) 1 attachments
Prairie City couple finds golden-colored bottle stashed at local park. Clue explanations misstate that bridge was gift from Japan Last Updated: July 14, 2021 - 4:14 PM Ontario, OR	Initial clues on Day 1 had some people thinking that the bottle was in Baker County or Pendleton, as the clues included Pendleton Roundup and the naming of Baker County. However, it did state that the...	The Argus Observer	Prairie City couple ... (txt) 1 attachments
COVID-19 delta variant found in Lane County Last Updated: July 14, 2021 - 4:08 PM Eugene, OR	In the past week, Lane County Public Health reported 87 more confirmed cases. "Delta is present within the community," Jason Davis, Lane County Public Health spokesperson, said Tuesday, Saturday, July...	The Register-Guard	COVID-19 delta varia... (rtf) 1 attachments

News organizations have shared more than 6,000 stories, photos and videos since AP the platform (pictured above) launched in January 2020. AP StoryShare is now being used by more than 200 news outlets in 12 states.

A new way to bolster local coverage

The Associated Press pioneered the idea of news sharing when the news cooperative was founded in 1846 by five newspapers to bring news of the Mexican-American War via Pony Express faster than ever before. More than 175 years later, the AP is again developing a tool to enable faster, stronger collaboration among news organizations and to foster local news.

AP StoryShare is a simple, quick platform for participants to share stories, photos, videos, and graphics. Users can browse or search, and download content. They can contribute as much or as little as they like, and they have complete control over what is shared. The platform provides an easy way for news outlets to connect in the shared — and critical — interest of preserving local news.

Photos shared by the Press Enterprise (above left), The Dominion Post (above center) the Times West Virginian (above right).